PERFORMANCE NOTE

Original Version is a work in which two ensembles and a violin duo play in various degrees of independence for much of the time. Therefore the work is not represented in the form of a full score throughout. Rather, where the music is uncoordinated, the players read from separate scores or parts, with appropriate cues and signals for performers and conductor.

Ensemble 1 is initially uncondacted, joining Ensemble 2 at a later point.

Ensemble 2 is conducted throughout – the original entry is indicated in the score for Ensemble 1, approximately two minutes after the start.

The violin duo plays in a different area from the other performers – at the premiere it was the gallery of Christchurch, Spitalfields. The duo joins the other players for the final section where, for the first time, they are strictly coordinated by the conductor.

To facilitate rehearsals, divisions within the piece are represented by durations rather than rehearsal figures. These durations are approximate and notional, for guidance only, and in no way represent actual timings to be reproduced in performance.
